

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Kim Turner
(302) 444-8074
kturner@fdb.org

Food Bank of Delaware Announces New Officers and Board of Directors

Newark, Del. (August 12, 2016) – The Food Bank of Delaware announced a slate of new officers and the appointment of four new members to its Board of Directors.

The following officers have been elected to the Food Bank of Delaware’s Executive Committee:

- Julie Miro Wenger, Chairwoman (Executive Director, Delaware Food Industry Council)
- Theron J Roe, Past Chair (Director of Strategic Markets, TRC)
- Patricia D. Beebe (President and CEO, Food Bank of Delaware)
- Tom Neylon, Vice Chair, Finance (Vice President & Tax/Corporate Finance, Syngenta)
- Andy Larmore, Vice Chair, Strategic Planning (Vice President, Bayshore Transportation)
- Ali Khan, Vice Chair, Governance (Service Manager, Barclays)
- Shawn Williams, Vice Chair, Advancement (Vice President – Relationship Manager Commercial Lending Delaware Division, Bryn Mawr Trust Company)

The following business and community leaders have been appointed to the Board of Directors:

- Ruth Mayer (Retired Educator and Food Bank Volunteer)
- Steve Thompson (Senior Vice President, Chesapeake Utilities Corporation)
- Jason Jowers, Esq. (Partner, Morris James LLP)
- S. Renee Roberts (Vice President, Community Reinvestment Act Officer, TD Bank)

The Food Bank of Delaware’s Board of Directors is composed of 23 leaders from the business, education community and nonprofit sectors. They are responsible for developing policies, procedures and regulations for the operation of the Food Bank of Delaware, generating finances/resources for the organization and monitoring its programs and performance.

###